South-Carolina GAZETTE.

From THURSDAY June 19th, to THURSDAY June 26th, 1755.

His MAJESTY's most gracious MESSAGE to the Right Honourable the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, in Parliament aſſembled, on Tueſday the 25th Day of March, 1755.

GEORGE, R.

HIS Majeſty having at the beginning of this ſeſſion declared, that his principal object was to preſerve the public tranquility, and, at the ſame time, to protect thoſe poſſeſſions, which make one great ſource of the commerce and wealth of his kingdoms; now finds it neceſſary to acquaint the houſe of lords, that the preſent ſituation of affairs makes it requiſite to augment his forces, by ſea and land; and to take ſuch other meaſures as may beſt tend to preſerve the general peace of Europe, and to ſecure the juſt rights and poſſeſſions of his crown in America; as well as to repel any attempts whatſoever, that may be made to ſupport or countenance any deſigns which may be formed againſt his majeſty, and his kingdoms. And his majeſty doubts not but he ſhall have the concurrence and ſupport of this houſe (on whoſe affection and zeal he entirely relies) in making ſuch augmentations, and taking ſuch meaſures for the ſupport of the honour of his crown, and the true intereſts of his people, and for the ſecurity of his dominions in the preſent critical conjuncture, as the exigency of affairs may require: In doing which, his majeſty will have as much regard to the eaſe of his good ſubjects, as ſhall be conſiſtent with their ſafety and welfare. G. R.

The humble ADDRESS of the Right Honourable the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, in Parliament aſſembled, the 25th of March, 1755.

Moſt gracious Sovereign,

WE your majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal ſubjects, the lords ſpiritual and temporal, in parliament aſſembled, beg leave to return your majeſty our humble thanks for your moſt gracious meſſage.

Nothing can more clearly demonſtrate your majeſty's parental concern for the welfare and proſperity of your people, than the royal care and firm reſolution, which you have had the goodneſs to repeat to us, to maintain the juſt rights and poſſeſſions of your crown againſt all encroachments, and to protect the commerce of your kingdoms.

The preſervation of the public peace is an object, which your majeſty, out of your benevolent diſpoſition for the good of your faithful ſubjects, as well as of mankind in general, will always have at heart; and we thankfully acknowledge your great wiſdom, in taking the moſt vigorous and effectual meaſures to prevent the infraction of it.

Duty and affection to your majeſty, zeal for your royal perſon, family and government, have always been the great motives of our conduct. Warmed with theſe ſentiments, and unalterably fixed in the ſame principles, we are fully convinced of what high importance it is, to ſtrengthen your majeſty's hands, in the preſent ſituation of affairs.

And we do, from the bottom of our hearts, aſſure your majeſty, that we will chearfully and vigorouſly ſupport your majeſty in making ſuch augmentations of your forces, by ſea and land, and in taking ſuch other meaſures, as events may make neceſſary, for maintaining the honour, rights and poſſeſſions of your crown, and the true intereſts of your people, and for the ſecurity of your dominions; and that we will zealouſly ſtand by and aſſiſt your majeſty, in repelling any attempts whatſoever, that may be made to ſupport or countenance any deſigns which may be formed againſt your majeſty, and your kingdoms.

Extract from the Votes of the Houſe of Commons, March 25, 1755.

Mr. ſecretary Robinſon acquainted the houſe, that he had a meſſage from his majeſty to this houſe, ſign'd by his majeſty; and he preſented the ſame to the houſe, and it was read by Mr. Speaker, and is as followeth, viz.

GEORGE, R.

HIS majeſty having at the beginning of this ſeſſion declared, that his principal object was, to preſerve the public tranquility, and at the ſame time, to protect thoſe poſſeſſions, which make one great ſource of the commerce and wealth of his kingdoms, now finds it neceſſary to acquaint the houſe of commons, that the preſent ſituation of affairs makes it requiſite to augment his forces, by ſea and land, and to take ſuch other meaſures, as may beſt tend to preſerve the general peace of Europe, and to ſecure the juſt rights and poſſeſſions of his crown in America, as well as to repel any attempts whatſoever, that may be made to ſupport or countenance any deſigns, which may be formed againſt his majeſty and his kingdoms; and his majeſty doubts not but his faithful commons (on whoſe affection and zeal he entirely relies) will enable him to make ſuch augmentations, and to take ſuch meaſures, for the ſupport of the honour of his crown, and the true intereſts of his people, and for the ſecurity of his dominions, in the preſent critical conjuncture, as the exigency of affairs may require; in doing which his majeſty will have as much regard to the eaſe of his good ſubjects, as ſhall be conſiſtent with their ſafety and welfare. G. R.

Reſolved, Nemine Contradicente, That an addreſs be preſented to his majeſty, to return him the thanks of this houſe for his moſt gracious meſſage; and to expreſs the entire confidence this houſe has in his majeſty's conſtant attention to preſerve the public tranquility, to maintain the commerce and true intereſts of his people, and to ſecure the juſt rights and poſſeſſions of his crown, againſt all attempts whatſoever; to aſſure his majeſty, that his faithful commons will, with the utmoſt zeal and affection for his royal perſon, family, and government, effectually enable his majeſty to make ſuch augmentation of his forces, by ſea and land, and to take ſuch meaſures for the ſecurity of his dominions, the trade and commerce of his people, and the juſt rights and poſſeſſions of his Crown, as ſhall be found neceſſary in the preſent conjuncture; and that they will, with the greateſt vigour and reſolution, ſtand by, and ſupport his majeſty, in repelling every attempt that may be made to countenance or ſupport any deſigns, which may be formed againſt his majeſty, and his kingdoms.

Reſolved, That the ſaid addreſs be preſented to his majeſty by the whole houſe.

Ordered, That ſuch members of this houſe, as are of his majeſty's honourable priy council, do humbly know his majeſty's pleaſure, when he will be attended by this houſe.

Ordered, That his majeſty's moſt gracious meſſage be referred to the conſideration of the committee of the whole houſe, to whom it was referred to conſider further of the ſupply granted to his majeſty.

WILLIAMSBURG in VIRGINIA, April 25.

Sunday laſt his honour the Governor, and the hon. commodore Keppel, arrived in Town, from the northward, in good health.

May 2. Yeſterday the general aſſembly of this colony met, when his honour the governor was pleaſed to open the ſeſſion with the following ſpeech.

Gentlemen of the Council, Mr. Speaker, and Gentlemen of the Houſe of Burgeſſes,

BY directions from Great-Britain, I now call you together, that you may conſider of ſuch meaſures as may be moſt ſuitable to the preſent critical ſituation and circumſtances of the Britiſh colonies in this continent in general, and of this dominion in particular.

By a letter from Sir Thomas Robinſon, ſecretary of ſtate, which I ſhall cauſe to be laid before you, I was directed to provide a ſufficient quantity of freſh proviſions for the uſe of the Troops from Ireland; on their arrival here, colonel John Hunter, in purſuance of my orders and directions, did ſupply them; and I hope you will make the neceſſary diſpoſition for his reimburſement.

I have the pleaſure to acquaint you, that his majeſty, out of his great regard for his ſubjects on this continent, and a proper reſentment of the unjuſtifiable invaſions and incroachments of the French, on his American dominions, has, of his gracious goodneſs to us, ordered four regiments, conſiſting each of a thouſand men, with a large train of artillery, for our aid and aſſiſtance, beſides the regiments now at Nova-Scotia, all at the expence of the crown of Great-Britain.

His excellency general Braddock, commander in chief of all his majeſty's forces on this continent; the honourable commodore Keppel, commander of his majeſty's ſhips of war; the governors of New-England, New York, Pennſylvania, Maryland, and myſelf, met in council the 14th of laſt month; where the affairs of the colonies were maturely conſidered, and a plan of operations for this ſummer's campaign adjuſted, with ſo much judgment, that, if properly ſupported, the deſigns of our enemies will probably be defeated, and the peace and ſafety of our country eſtabliſhed on the moſt permanent foundations.

It was reported, that 6 French men of war, with tranſports, were arrived at Louiſburg: If it be ſo, that reinforcement, added to the forces and militia at Canada, may prove too numerous for our preſent force; and therefore, in prudence, we ought to be provided for all events, and, with ſpirit and reſolution, raiſe men and money to reinforce and ſupport our preſent forces.

The operations of this Year, will, doubtleſs, be attended with conſiderable expence; and without an adequate aid from the colonies, I dread the conſequences!—Let me therefore intreat you (as it is now in your power, if you properly exert yourſelves, to render the French ſchemes abortive) that you will grant with promptitude, ſuch a ſufficient ſupply, as appears to be neceſſary at this critical juncture; by which means you will, in all likelihood, prevent the occaſion of much greater expences hereafter, which muſt unavoidably ariſe from a neglect at preſent.

Many of the other colonies have ſhewn a good ſpirit, and a juſt regard to his majeſty's orders at this time: The ſupplies granted by them, I ſhall cauſe to be laid before you; and I hope their conduct will raiſe in you, gentlemen of the houſe of burgeſſes, a laudable emulation; and that you will approve your gratitude for his majeſty's diſtinguiſhed care, by rendering it effectual for his gracious purpoſes, your preſervation and proſperity.

Expreſſes will be neceſſary from the camp to Williamſburgh.—Pennſylvania, and Maryland, have laid horſes from Winchester to their colonies. The general ſends his letters to Wincheſter, and I hope you will provide that horſes may be held in readineſs at proper ſtages, for diſpatches from thence to this place.

The ordinaries are very extravagant; the ſubaltern officers and ſoldiers cannot pay as other tranſient travellers, and I hope you will make a ſuitable regulation in that behalf.

The poor men who ſuffered at the Meadows with colonel Waſhington, I recommend to your favour, as they were diſabled in the ſervice of this country.

I have received an inſtruction from his majeſty, relating to an act of aſſembly, in regard to executions and relief of inſolvent debtors; I am ordered to recommend it to you, to paſs an act of the like nature, with ſome amendments, which I now do, and ſhall cauſe the inſtruction to be laid before you.

Your laſt vote of ſupply was very agreeably received at home, and you were accordingly truly recommended for your dutiful obedience to his majeſty's commands; continue then to diſtinguiſh yourſelves the ſons of Britons, and convince the world, that the heroic martial ſpirit of your progenitors, (famed over the univerſe) ſtill animates their children in the remoteſt regions.

Gentlemen of the Council, Mr. Speaker, and Gentlemen of the Houſe of Burgeſſes,

I am ſo intimately acquainted with your impending danger, and ſo earneſtly deſirous that it may be averted, that I cannot conclude without exhorting you to conſider, with the moſt ſerious attention, the great and important affairs which I have now laid before you, and the abſolute neceſſity there is at preſent of the moſt vigorous and effectual meaſures, for the preſervation of your lives! your liberties! your properties! your religion! all that is held dear and ſacred among mankind.

Boſton, May 1. We hear from New-Hampſhire, that in the government of New Hampſhire, that on Wedneſday laſt a man and a boy were taken priſoners there, by five Indians: But providentially it happen'd, that in about 2 hours after they were met with by nine men who were out on a ſcout; One of the Indians diſcovering the Engliſh near them, held up two of his fingers and whiſtled, which was a ſignal to the reſt; whereupon they reſt from their ambuſh and fired upon the Engliſh, but did no execution. The Engliſh purſued them, retook the captives, and the Indians made off.

By a veſſel from Halifax, we are informed, that Capt. Cobb, in a ſloop in the government's ſervice, had taken a French ſchooner going from Louiſburg to St. John's, with 110 barrels of flour, a number of cannon, and other warlike ſtores on board, all which were condemned at Halifax. And that Capt. Cobb had also taken a vessel belonging to (the) Plymouth, laden with provisions, that was going to trade with the French) but as both vessel and cargo have been condemned and sold, 'tis thought the owner will make but an indifferent voyage on't.—May all such traders meet with the same fate.

Capt. Kirkwood has brought 2000 arms, and other accoutrements, for the provincial troops lately raised, who have impatiently waited here several weeks for their arrival.

Nerbern, in North-Carolina, May 3. We hear from Portsmouth, that his excellency our governor is expected there the 7th instant; at which time the commissioners for building the fort at Ocacock Inlet, are to meet his excellency there, in order to consult on measures for immediately carrying on the fortifications there.

New York, May 5. His excellency William Shirley, Esq; colonel in his majesty's army, and governor in chief of the Massachusets Bay, as also the honourable Robert Hunter Morris, Esq; lieutenant-governor of the province of Pennsylvania, arrived here on Tuesday last from the westward.

Governor Shirley set off on Saturday evening last, for Boston, being accompanied out of town by sundry gentlemen of distinction.

We are assured that the honourable William Johnson, Esq; one of his majesty's council of this province, is, by Colonel Shirley, appointed major general, and commander in chief of the American forces to be employed in an expedition to the Northward: As also of such Indians as shall assist his majesty in the same.

Major general Johnson embarked yesterday for Albany; as did likewise at the same time, or will embark this morning, for the same place, two hundred of the new raised soldiers.

Yesterday a number of recruits, supposed to be between 150 and 200, arrived here from New-England, having been raised in that province.

Annapolis, (in Maryland) May 8. Thursday morning last his excellency general Braddock left Frederic Town, and is gone to the army at Wills's Creek.

Tuesday last his excellency our governor returned home from the western parts of this province.

A gentleman in London, writes, in a letter to his friend in this province, "The armaments making in France and here, seem to threaten a war, but I hope in terrorem to each other, as the result in all probability will be a lasting peace. Never since Queen Anne's time, was such alacrity, activity and diligence seen, nor so formidable a fleet equipp'd; such bold fighting captains, of courage tried, each left to the choice of their lieutenants; admirals to the choice of their captains; so that unanimity is diffused thro' the whole: Such a fleet may justly be the appellation of England's Bulwark, and Britain's Glory."

New York, May 12. Last monday morning major general Johnson set out from hence for Albany, &c.

We are well inform'd, that 4 of the 5 New Jersey companies, raising in that province pay, are already full. Two of them have been reviewed, and the others are to be reviewed in a day or two: And 'tis said the 5th company is in a likely way to be filled in a short time.

Philadelphia, May 15. We hear from the counties of Lancaster, York and Cumberland, that notice being given there, that waggons and carriage horses were wanting for the use of the army, great numbers were immediately offered, and 150 waggons, laden with oats, Indian corn, and other forage, were dispatched to the camp in a few days, and as many more might have been had if wanted, the people offering with great readiness and chearfulness, from a zeal for his majesty's service.

On Saturday last his honour our governor returned to this city from New-York.

And on Monday the general assembly of this province met here.

Boston, May 15. Tuesday last about noon, his excellency our governor returned in good health from his interview with general Braddock at Virginia, to the great satisfaction of people of all ranks among us.

New York, May 19. We hear that 300 Connecticut men are taken into the pay of this province, to serve under their own officers, on the present expedition; and that the remainder of our quota of troops (500 more) will soon be ready.

We have advice from New-Jersey, that the five companies in the pay of that province, are now compleat, and will soon be ready to march. And Tuesday last his majesty's snow the Jamaica, Capt. Hood, arrived here from Virginia, with several officers for General Pepperell's regiment, and arms, &c. for the New-Jersey provincial forces.

Boston, May 19. This morning set sail, under the convoy of three men of war, 35 sail of transports, having on board upwards of 2000 forces, which have been raised here, bound to the eastward.

On Saturday last the mate of a vessel arrived in town from Louisburg, and gives the following account, viz. That having met with bad weather at sea, in which he lost his mast, and suffered much other damage, he put into Louisburg to refit, and that whilst he was there a 36 gun ship came in from France, and upon her arrival, 500 men were immediately set to work on their fortifications, which were in a ruinous condition, except the Island Battery. That there was not one English vessel in the harbour, nor had there been any for a considerable time, which the French much wondered at, and lamented the want of, they being straitened for provisions.

New York, May 26. Last friday evening general Pepperrell arrived here from Boston.

Tuesday last his majesty's snow Jamaica, Capt. Hood, sailed from Sandy Hook for Virginia.

Philadelphia, May 29. We hear from the camp, at Wills's Creek, that his excellency general Braddock was to march in a few days for the Ohio: That Mr. Croghan had arrived there with a number of Indians; and that more were daily expected to come in.

Extract of a Letter from New-York, May 26, 1755.

"A French gentleman arrived here late last night, from Albany: He left Canada four weeks ago, and says, that 950 men were then about marching for the Ohio, where 250 kept garison all the winter; and 400 more were soon to set out for Crown-Point."

CHARLES-TOWN, June 26.

By Capt. Raines, who arrived here last Saturday (and left England the 9th of last Month) and by Letters to the 7th of May and public Papers to the 3d, we have Advice, that the military Preparations (both in England and in France) were not in the least abated; yet that it was still doubted whether they would end in a War: That His Majesty, on the 24th of April, made a most gracious Speech to both Houses of Parliament; prorogued them to the 27th of May; and immediately after set out for his German Dominions, where 'twas thought His Stay would be very short: That 20 Men of War, (16 of them of the Line,) under the Admirals Boscawen and Mostyn, were put to Sea from Portsmouth and Plymouth, with their Guns all loaded and shotted, and had taken in some Regiments at Plymouth; that the Destination of this Squadron was not publickly known, but 'twas thought they were to watch the Motions of a French Fleet, which 'twas rumour'd intended a Descent on Ireland: That another fine Squadron of 20 Ships of the Line, lay at Spithead, ready to put to Sea at a Moment's Warning; that they continued fitting out more Ships, with the greatest Expedition, in all the Docks; and that the Bounty to Seamen was extended to the 25th of May.

Parvæ, parvis æque animis.

To the FREEHOLDER.

SIR,

YOUR benevolent spirit seems to have been disturb'd by an advertisement of the 2d instant, as if you apprehended your fellow freeholders and citizens were somehow in danger. I confess it laudable, and very becoming a generous mind, to give the alarum, and to cry aloud when there's any thing terrible approaching: Such good and trusty watchmen not only deserve, but may always be assured of, the voice and esteem of the people. These juntos, as you call them, and associations, will sometimes, where one is not concern'd himself, occasion strange suggestions.

I must take the freedom to ask you one question, N.B. without a fee; whether any set of men, any where, in the profession or practice of any science or art whatever, may, or have not a right, without offence or colour of presumption, to assemble themselves, to the Intent, that if any error has been going on to the prejudice of themselves or otherwise, it may be set to right as far as they may be able? My private sentiment is, they have: But you know best.

I also think the presumption of that society not so bad, as ill-taken by some; and that they have a right to a reward for their skill and pains here as well as elsewhere: For, you know the old story of the angel making the ass to speak.

As I have a faculty of meddling now and then, I fairly ask'd one of the members some days ago, how and which way——and am now satisfied you, nor no reasonable freeholder, will think it exorbitant or in the least extravagant; nay, so far from it, it seems to promise more general satisfaction than hitherto. In short, it is so trifling, that was I the general voice, should be apt to cry out parturiunt montes.

As for their long preamble to a trifling advertisement, what need to carp at that preamble? perhaps it escaped too suddenly, or might have been dressed more agreeably: This reflection sooth'd my noddle a little, otherwise I might have exclaim'd against the presumption of the times too: But let you and I not forget humanum est errare.

Your comparing of bills with times, put me upon the scrutiny to be satisfied as to gross an imposition, as I had been before and since that time concerned that way now and then; for, one or other of a family will always be wanting something: But, verily, I cannot come nigh you.

As to the story of the fanciful man, I could have help'd you to a much better one; but cui bono.

I begin to think you and I may be thought dabblers and busy-bodies, a character I abhor; therefore I'll finish with a verse from an older poet than yours.

Debinc ut quiescant porro, moneo, & desinant
Maledicere, malefacta ne noscant sua.

AMICUS.

To the President of the New Physicians Faculty.

Pray Sir

NOLI mihi molestus esse; If I do not ask with Submition to be under presidium, auctoritas tua; I am so Surprised to read in the Gezette, Congregationem Membrorum in Corpore without Aggregationem Ellementorum, that realy I am afraid to fall in Confusione Magna pray Celeberime, where shall we send the Creater, si Corpus potest ex se creari, then where shall we put the Substance, si Corpus Existit sine Extentione et absque forma.

I know you will answer to the second question, that you have Provided Pockets for the Substance, before the Publication of the first Honourable act Conserning Emolumenta noviter imposita et debita umane artis, breviter aperuisti crumenam pius quam intellectum, ad prefarvationem umanitatis, Perhaps you may be able to Answer Metaphisico modo. In that Case, I expect a Distintion betwen Corpus naturale et Corpus misticum Civile, in which Distintion you will find the Essential facultys necessary to the Construction of the two Differants Bod

culty est me

June 18,

Mr. Timothy,

THO' the Faculty of Physic, as they call themselves, have taken the Publication of the FREEHOLDER's Letter in your last Gazette but one, very heinously; and now (too much like those evil Ministers, and others, who dread the Consequence of a public Scrutiny when their Conduct cannot be justified) seem to think the Liberty of the Press a fore Evil, and are said to have forebore prosecuting you for publishing the said Letter—either to make you their Friend,—or, being your Friends,—or from some other more probable Cause. I say, notwithstanding all that is premised, it is expected, that you will act impartially, and not suppress or refuse to publish any Thing that may be sent you concerning the Faculty or their Advertisement, wherein you are safe; for it is conceived, that a Patient or Freeholder, has as much a Right to the Use of your Press, as a Physician, Surgeon, Apothecary, or whatever else any, who stile themselves of the Faculty of Physic, may be called.

In Consequence, I must desire you to acquaint the Gentlemen of the Faculty, that I am one, amongst many, who have come to a Resolution, never, from the 10th of June 1755, to employ any one, of the said Faculty now Resident in Charles-Town, in the Capacity of a Physician to my Family; but will join in a Subscription (now on Foot) to encourage one or more able and experienced gratuate Physician to come from ENGLAND, and settle here on the old Footing. PROVIDED nevertheless, that if they speedily publish another Advertisement in your Gazette, unresolving, &c. what they have hitherto resolved, &c. then this Resolution to be void and of less Effect.

That I am one who have no great Opinion of their Humanity, from the Words of their late Advertisement; and am far from being satisfied that any are seldom sufficiently paid for their their (sollicitous!) Care: But Humanum est Errare, as a certain Senator lately observed.

That I believe few would be sorry, to see their Advertisement burnt by the Hands of a common H——n, if it deserves such a Fate.

That it is doubted, whether any of them in Charles-Town, save one, were bred more than Apothecaries or Surgeons.

That it is the Opinion of many sensible People, that they, who are not, yet pretend to be, PHYSICIANS, and practise as such, grossly impose on and abuse their Patients, if there are any such Pretenders: But I hope there are none.

After having given the Gentlemen this Information, Mr. Timothy; be pleased to acquaint them further, that there are Freeholders enough in Charles-Town, who are able and resolved, to support and countenance you, in printing and publishing any Matters of Fact or just Remarks, &c. that may be sent you for that Purpose, relating to them or either of them, their or either of their Proceedings, Resolutions, &c. notwithstanding all they may attempt, or may have attempted, to intimidate you.

Yours, &c.

A FREEHOLDER.
